Carter & Ralph Stanley AKA The Stanley Brothers, comprised of Carter and Ralph Stanley, were pioneers of bluegrass music, leaving an indelible mark on the genre through their innovative style, which featured Carter's soulful lead vocals and Ralph's distinctive banjo playing. Their influence can be seen in their popularization of bluegrass standards like "Mountain Dew" and "Man of Constant Sorrow," as well as Carter's over 100 compositions, including "White Dove" and "The Fields Have Turned Brown," which remain staples of the genre.
